

RemoteJobAssistant Launches Free AI That Shows Job Seekers Exactly What Recruiters Want

---

AI Job Lander analyzes any job posting and delivers a personalized application strategy in seconds - no signup required

TEMECULA, Calif. — December 9, 2025

RemoteJobAssistant.com today announced the launch of AI Job Lander, a free tool that reveals exactly what hiring managers look for in every applicant. Users simply paste a job URL, and the AI returns a complete playbook: which keywords belong in their resume, how to open their cover letter, interview questions to prepare for, and mistakes that will get them rejected.

The Problem

Modern job search is stacked against candidates. The average corporate job receives 250 applications, with only four candidates getting interviews. Most are filtered out before a human ever sees them. Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS) now screen submissions at the majority of large companies, matching resumes against job requirements. Qualified candidates get rejected simply because they don't describe their experience in the right language.

"Recruiters spend six seconds scanning a resume before deciding yes or no," said Allison Goodlin, Product Manager at RemoteJobAssistant. "Most applicants have no idea what those six seconds filter for. AI Job Lander eliminates the guesswork."

How It Works

AI Job Lander uses artificial intelligence to identify patterns and predict what hiring teams actually prioritize versus boilerplate requirements. The tool provides:

- Keyword Optimization: Specific phrases to include for both ATS and human reviewers
- Cover Letter Hook: An effective opening tailored to the position
- Interview Prep: Likely questions and recommended answers
- Red Flags to Avoid: Common mistakes that eliminate candidates

Why It's Free

“There are career coaches charging 200 – 500 for this advice,” said Goodlin.” LinkedIn Premium costs 360/year with limited features. These resources remain inaccessible to people without disposable income. We’re committed to making professional job search guidance available to everyone.”

Built for Non-Technical Roles

AI Job Lander focuses on non-technical positions - customer service, HR, marketing, sales, and operations - a segment often overlooked by software-focused career tools.

About RemoteJobAssistant

Remote Job Assistant is a remote job platform featuring AI-powered job analysis, red flag detection, and auto-apply tools for non-technical professionals. The platform analyzes job postings to identify what employers actually want, flags potential ghost jobs and unrealistic requirements, and helps candidates focus on roles where they have a real chance of success.
